Shakespeare Napa Valley seeking online actors

Napa Valley College Performing Arts has launched the Shakespeare Napa Valley Student Company, a performance ensemble made up of Napa Valley College students.

The Student Company's first production will be a summer online presentation of Romeo and Juliet on Thursday, July 16 at 7 p.m.

Part of the theater program at NVC, Shakespeare Napa Valley Student Company is a performance intensive, providing classical training through the rehearsal and performance of works written or influenced by William Shakespeare.

The program offers opportunities for NVC students of varying experience levels to expand performance skills.

Director Jennifer King, working in conjunction with The Streaming Theatre, will collaborate with a cast of summer session students to push the limits of digital technology in producing an abridged live digital experience of Shakespeare's famous love story.

SNV is accepting self-taped auditions. The deadline is Tuesday, May 19 at midnight. Those chosen must enroll in the NVC Theater Arts course upon admission.

For more details and to submit an audition, visit www.ShakespeareNapaValley.org.

Virtual rehearsals begin Monday, June 8, with the performance on Thursday, July 16.
